KING AND QUEEN ARRIVE IN BERLIN

FIRST STATE VISIT OF BRITISH MONARCH TO BERLIN IN NEARLY TWO CENTU-RIES—THE

King and Emperor Kiss

As They Meet, and a Royal Salute Is Fired as Party Drives to Palace.
Mayor and Council Extend
Welcome to the Royal Visitors.

Special to the Herald.

Berlin, Feb. 9.—The king and queen of England made a triumphal entry into Berlin today, the visit marking the first state visit of a British monarch to Berlin in nearly two centuries. The kaiser was dressed in a British uniform when he stepped out to welcome King Edward, who wore the German uniform. A great crowd of dignitaries was at the station to lend pomp and splendor to the greeting. The kaiser kissed Edward as he stepped from the train. The royal party entered the state coach and were driven to the palace. En route the king was welcomed by the mayor and his council, and made a short address in reply to the welcome. As the palace was entered one hundred and one guns were fired as the royal salute. A great state banquet will be held tonight in the palace, which is expected to be one of the most splendid events of the program arranged for the visit.

NO JURY YET IN SIGHT

Only One Hundred of Last Venire Remain, and Little Hope of Getting Jury in the Cooper Case.

Special to the Herald.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 9.—Less than one hundred of the last venire of five hundred men remained to be examined this morning, in the effort to select the remaining jurors for the Cooper case. The men are mostly from within the corporate limits of Nashville, and it is expected by the attorneys on both sides of the case that it will be impossible to secure a jury from the remaining men.

Later.—The entire venire has been exhausted and all failed to qualify. Most of them said they had read reports of the killing and had formed opinions. Another venire has been ordered to report Friday.

REFUSED TO MARRY HER

New York Woman Waited For Groceryman and Shot Him—Then Took Dose of Poison.

Special to the Herald.

New York, Feb. 9.—Mrs. Martha Erichson, after waiting for five hours in the cold with a revolver concealed in her muff, shot Wm. Schwarzenmann, a grocer, whom she declared had refused to keep his promise to marry her. Officers chased the woman several blocks and captured her. She was taken to police headquarters, where she took a dose of strychnine concealed in her stocking. She was hurried to a hospital and is not expected to live. The victim of her bullet is in the same hospital and will also die.

TO IGNORE VETO.

House Committee Wanted to Pass
Census Bill Over President's Veto.

Special to the Herald.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9.—At a meeting of the house committee on census all of the committee of sixteen, with one exception, favored passing the bill over the president's veto. Action, however, was deferred until Thursday.

Carrie Coming Home.

Special to the Herald.

London, Feb. 9.—Carrie Nation has become discouraged in her London crusade against drinking and smoking and has booked passage for the United States. She will sail for home on March first. She gives as the reason of her failure in England that the churches failed to give her any support.

THOMAS OF HOPKINS SPRINGS A SENSATION

STATE SENATOR CHARGES THAT LITTLE HEED IS PAID TO THE ANTI-LOBBY LAW
AT THE CAPITAL.

His Life Was Threatened

So He Claims—Charges of Lobbying
Decried Quite a Stir, and Matter Will Be Sifted By Committee Appointed Monday Afternoon.

Special to the Herald.

Austin, Texas, Feb. 8.—Quite a sensation was sprung in the senate this afternoon just before the hour of adjournment, when Senator Thomas of Hopkins county arose on a question of personal privilege and charged that he had been improperly approached and intimidated by outside interests, and also declared that other senators have said that never before in the history of the state has there been such an open and flagrant lobby maintained at Austin during a session of the legislature.

"I have seen the brazen effrontery of lobbyists who have appeared before our committees," said Senator Thomas, "and even to suggest to members of the senate how they should vote on pending measures."

"I called attention to various provisions of the anti-lobby law; that the committee rooms had been thrown open to everybody whether interested in a bill or not. He wanted to appeal to the president and members of the senate to rigidly enforce the anti-lobby law."

"I charged that he had been approached and his vote solicited for bills pending before the legislature in violation of the anti-lobby law; that the anti-lobby law has been violated thousands of times."

"He alleged that he had seen a certain state official, who should be attending to his duties, on the floor of the senate and in committee rooms using his influence to defeat a certain bill. He asserted he had been told that if he brought this question before the senate he 'would be shot full of holes.'"

"He believed that some bills have already been defeated by outside influences."

President Davis wanted to know if Senator Thomas referred to the chair as to the granting of privileges on the floor of the senate to outsiders or to state officials.

Senator Thomas replied "No."

Senator Meachum took the floor and said he was surprised at the disclosures made by Senator Thomas, and in an impassioned speech moved that there be a roll call and let each senator answer whether he has been improperly approached; that it was Mr. Thomas' duty to go before the grand jury here and under oath tell of the violations of the law.

Senator Hume said that there is no need for a lobby law to maintain the senate's self-respect, that he was able to take care of himself if approached by any one. He said he had not even been approached by preachers.

Senator Veale thought it was a serious charge, and seconded the motion of Senator Meachum.

Roll call was taken and of twenty-five members present all except Senator Thomas himself voted that they had not been approached or intimidated.

Senator Murray offered a resolution that Senator Thomas be brought before the bar of the senate and furnish names and dates on which he charges that he and other senators had been intimidated and solicited. He subsequently withdrew his resolution and another was offered by Senator Meachum and Sturgeon, which was adopted, providing that the president of the senate appoint a committee of three senators to make an investigation of the language and statement of Senator Thomas and report back their findings in a week. The committee is empowered to take testimony, administer oaths, etc. The chair appointed Sturgeon, Veale and Meachum.

Mitchell Gets Vote.

Special to the Herald.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 9.—John Mitchell, former head of the miners' union, received one vote for United States senator in the twenty-eight ballot, the only one taken by the legislature today in the senatorial contest. Hopkins had seventy-three votes.
